

MORNING APPEAL.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1878

ANOTHER "OUTRAGE."

Concerning another of those dreadful political avalanches, designated by Brother Daggett as an outrage, the Gold Hill News has the following: "The Republican Central Committee of Lincoln county held a meeting last Saturday, and appointed five delegates to the State Convention. The delegates are Dr. S. L. Lee, W. P. Goodman, W. R. Wilson, A. H. Emanuel and J. M. Handford. They are instructed by the Committee to vote for R. M. Daggett for Governor. Will the editor of the Enterprise now favor the citizens of Lincoln county with his views upon the usurpation of their rights by the County Committee? The people of Nye have not yet taken his advice, and undone the work of their committee; but possibly the citizens of Lincoln would treat him more courteously should he suggest the same movement to them. Let us have a full expression of opinion on this grave question by the Enterprise."

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

A train going at the rate of 40 miles an hour came in collision with another train on the Pittsburg & St. Louis Railroad on Wednesday morning. Fifteen people were killed outright and fifty wounded—many of them past recovery.

The Democracy have no less than 24 majority in the North Carolina Legislature. The Senatorship to be filled is that of Merrimon's successor.

The South Carolina Republican Convention has endorsed Governor Hampton. That distinguished Ku Klux klanman must have been doing some effective work in the persuasive way.

The Colorado Republican State Convention is in session.

Gen. Ewing has been nominated to Congress in Ohio; and Godlove S. Orth by the Republicans of one of the Indiana districts.

Concerning the Chinese Embassy, the Washington Star says: "We learn upon the authority of a member of the Chinese Embassy that the visit of Mr. Chin, senior Ambassador, to Hartford, is to consult with his associate, Mr. Wing, and to rest for a few days in the mission house while preparations are made here for the Embassy. It is perhaps not generally known, but is a fact, that the Chinese Government owns a spacious building in Hartford in which the entire Embassy can be accommodated and cared for by their own countrymen. They will tarry for a few days simply to prepare for their presentation to the President and their permanent residence in Washington. The statement that the Embassy had rented the Stewart mansion for a residence is incorrect; no choice has yet been made of a home."

The Greenback Convention is in session at Washington. They demand, among other things, the removal of all restrictions upon the coinage of silver.

John P. Hoyt, of Michigan, has been appointed Governor of Idaho.

Something of the true inwardness of Democratic legislation is indicated by the following:

The last House reduced the pay of the Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service from $4,000 to $3,500, cut off his assistant and cut off the allowance for his incidental traveling expenses, consequently Vail, the Superintendent, last month spent more in traveling than his salary amounted to, and will place his resignation in the hands of Postmaster General Key. The latter is reluctant to accept it, but it does not appear that he can arrange for any increase in the compensation, and Vail is very apt to retire.

Pickens county, South Carolina, like the whole State in nullification times, is in open revolt against the Federal revenue laws.

One colored fisherman, at Fort Monroe, killed another one over a dispute about fifty cents.

Billiard players will be interested in the following:

New York, August 8.—The fifteen-ball pool match for $250 a side and the championship of the United States between Cyrille Dion and Wahlstrom, the Swede, took place to-night. The terms were winner of twenty-one games out of forty. The match was decided in thirty-five games, the Swede winning twenty-one and Dion fourteen. The Swede had the game in hand from the start.

Eogardus is about leaving England. He will shoot no more matches there.

The present status of the Indian war seems to be pretty fully indicated in the following:

Boise City, Idaho, August 7.—Gen. Howard considers the backbone of the war broken. A report has reached General Howard that a large number of the Putes have offered to surrender to Col. Miller at Malleur Agency. The main body of the hostiles now on the war-path are supposed to number 200. The Banocks are fleeing through Big Camas prairie. Col. Green has ordered five companies of cavalry to pursue them. Egbert is at Glenn's Ferry with 150 men. Forsythe is at Sheep ranch, en route to Bruneau with 250 cavalry. General Howard deems it wise to keep sufficient troops in this vicinity until all danger is over and the prisoners gathered in that they may be properly punished.

HAD A WINDFALL.—Says the Bodie Standard of August 6:

A private letter to W. A. Searls, President of the Spaulding Gold and Silver Mining Company, informs him that by the death of an uncle near Boston, Massachusetts, he has fallen heir to a very fine property. The estate of the deceased is valued at over $100,000 and there are only two heirs besides Mr. Searls. We congratulate him on his good fortune.

THE RENO WORKINGMEN AND THE CHINESE.

Says the Reno Journal of yesterday:

We interviewed Messrs. Leeper and White, leading Workingmen, yesterday morning shortly after the momentous 7 o'clock had passed. We found them both willing to talk about the Chinese scare, and got their opinions about it. They were both positive that the Workingmen were law-abiding citizens, ready to uphold the laws and protect lives and property; that being property holders they were not silly enough to jeopardize their own interests by plying the torch, even if they were disposed to, which they were not. "The Chinese Must Go," in order that starving whites may have food and work. When asked about the existence of an anti-Chinese Club, they both professed ignorance of it, except that such an institution was organized long ago by P. N. Dornin. Not having heard of it for a long time, they believed it had died out. The meeting of last Sunday night, in Myers' carpenter shop, at which warlike speeches were made and the resolution passed giving John forty-eight hours to leave town, is accounted for in this wise: The burning of Chinatown the night before seemed to offer a first-class opportunity to get rid of the Chinese and at the same time make a ten-strike for the Club, or Union, as they call it. Determined to strike while the embers were hot, the members were hastily called together, a few let into the secret, and the doors left open for the public to enter. Then commenced a big game of bluff. A purse of $15 was made up to send a man to Virginia City on horseback and then reports were started that he had gone to purchase a wagon-load of guns for the Club to enforce their resolution with. The scores of rumors wildly flying round only served to aid the scheme. They also had an opportunity of finding out who favored the Chinese and who did not, and next November they would shoot paper bullets into the ballot box instead of shooting powder and ball now. That at the polls the result of this scare would be felt more than it is now. They were amused at the efforts to preserve peace, when no lawlessness was thought of. "White thought that designing politicians, fearing the power of the Club, were doing all they could to break it up and bring it into bad odor in the community, but that the only effect was to bind them together. They are confident that the great excitement has materially helped the Union in numbers and influence. Leeper, instead of getting ready for war, was preparing a speech to be delivered on Saturday night, when he will present the Workingmen's side of the story and rub the sore heads of more than one would-be official. The meeting will be held at the west end of Earl's depot, and a general attendance of the citizens is desired.

The above is the substance of the interview, as we understand their utterances. We are anxious not to misrepresent any one, and therefore endeavor to avoid sensationalism and impulsive utterances. The province of a newspaper is to preserve peace and not to excite the passions of a community nor to vilify any one to serve personal spite; in short, to be dignified and honest.

ARREST OF A CHINESE MURDERER.

We find the following account of a murder and the arrest of the suspected party in the Silver State of Wednesday.

Last January a Chinaman known as Charley Lung was murdered in front of the store of Sam Wa Lung by his countrymen. Evidence introduced at the Coroner's inquest indicated that Charley had been sentenced to death by a Chinese tribunal for furnishing evidence which convicted two or three of his countrymen of violating the Act prohibiting the sale of opium, except by druggists. A white man named George White saw the row which resulted in the death of Charley and saw two Chinamen, who undoubtedly were the murderers, run through the sagebrush back of Chinatown and escape. As the crime was committed in the night he was unable to identify the murderers, and as the Chinese preferred no complaint against them no effort was made to arrest them. It appears, however, that the company of which Charley was a member have taken the matter in hand with the determination of bringing the murderers to justice. Last week a Chinaman named Chin Chin, probably a detective, arrived here from San Francisco, and went quietly to work to learn all the particulars of the murder. He ascertained from the Chinese who fired the fatal shot, and arrested the individual at Battle Mountain and delivered him over to the Sheriff, who has locked him in jail to await examination.

A FEARFUL SPELL.—The Keville of Tuesday tells the following:

A rancher in one of the valleys in this vicinity sent a mule into town by an Indian. He wanted the mule stabled, but fearing that the Indian might not find the particular stable in which he wished the animal placed, he gave him a note to a friend whom he knew the Indian to be acquainted. The contents of the note were as follows: "Take this mule to the Castone stable." The recipient of the note puzzled over it for some time, but at last light broke in on him, and he ejaculated: "Well, there is more than one way to spell 'Keystone,' sure enough. Co—kee, s-t-o-n-e—stone, Keystone."

FAILURE OF CROPS.—Says the Tuscarora Times of August 6:

This year's crops at the Indian reservation at Duck Valley, are a total failure. The potatoes, peas, wheat and barley will not pay for harvesting even with Indian labor. The failure is attributed in the main to the Indian troubles in the north, which so demoralized the reservation Putes and Shoshones and distracted their attention that they failed to devote the time necessary for the proper cultivation of the crops. One hundred and fifty acres of wheat will be planted this fall, which it is hoped will yield a handsome return.

A RANDOM SHOOTER IN TROUBLE.—Says the Reno Record of August 7:

This afternoon, a Chinaman near the bank of the river, desiring to be on the safe side, concluded to reload his revolver. In order to do so he commenced discharging the loads in it, seemingly at random. These balls so discharged passed through the dwelling of Mark Parish, one coming in very close proximity to the person of Mrs. Parish. The Chinaman was arrested and is now in jail.

SAVED HIS SCALP.

The Reno Journal tells the following:

The story has reached us that Charley Davis, the handsome drummer, had an adventure with the Indians up in the hostile country. He was anxious to get to another town a few miles further on, and thinking he could reach it without losing his scalp, he took a companion, and with a fine team and buggy they started out. They had not gone a great way before they discovered half a dozen mounted Indians making for them. Full of alarm at their dangerous situation, Charley gave the horses a tremendous blow, intent on escaping if possible. The horses, startled at the fierceness of the blow, made a sudden spring and broke the double tree short off. Away went the horses, leaving our heroes on the hurricane deck of the buggy. Comprehending the situation in an instant, over the side they went and legged it for the woods, where they kept close to the thickest of the undergrowth. The hostiles, thinking they could catch the men at their leisure, rushed after the horses. Charley and his friend had urgent business in town they had just left, and started back to attend to it. The time they made is not on record, fortunately for Ratus and Goldsmith Maid. When they got to town they found the horses waiting for them, they having also escaped and reached home. Charley will be here in a day or two to tell what became of the buggy.

MRS. BLACK ACQUITTED.—The Silver State of August 7 reports the result of the trial of the woman-slayer, Mrs. Black, as follows:

The trial of Mrs. Myra T. Black was concluded yesterday in the District Court. The defendant was placed on the witness stand and examined in her own behalf, she being the only witness for the defense. In the afternoon S. S. Grass, of counsel for the prosecution, opened the argument for the State. M. S. Bonfield and A. W. Fisk followed in turn for the defense, and District Attorney Harding closed for the State. At 8 o'clock last evening the case was given to the jury, and at 11 o'clock last night they returned into Court with a verdict of not guilty. We are informed that three ballots were taken by the jury. The first stood 9 for acquittal and 3 for conviction; the second 11 for acquittal and 1 for conviction, and the third unanimous for acquittal.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE
Constitution of the State of Nevada, passed at the Eight Session of the Legislature:
Resolved, That there shall be added to the present Constitution of this State an Article to be called and known as Article XVIII, and which shall be as follows:
ARTICLE XVIII.—The rights of suffrage and office holding shall not be withheld from any male citizen of the United States, by reason of his color or previous condition of servitude.
Passed February 15, 1877.
Resolved, by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That Article Eleven (11) of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended by adding to said Article Eleven (11) section ten (10) thereof, which shall read as follows:
Section Ten. No public funds, of any kind or character whatever, State, county, or municipal, shall be used for sectarian purposes.
Passed February 27, 1877.
I hereby certify the foregoing to be true copies from the enrolled resolutions on file in my office.
Witness my hand and the Great Seal of State, August 3, 1878.
